

PART A: THE PARTS OF SPEECH

EXERCISE 5: PERSONAL PRONOUNS

Circle the personal pronouns in each of the following sentences. Then draw an arrow to the antecedent of the pronoun:

1. When a boy becomes a teenager, he often wants to show his independence.
2. Terry Fox became a hero for all Canadians when he showed them what courage was.
3. You know you can succeed, Margaret, if you apply yourself to your work.
4. Perhaps dinosaurs became extinct because they grew too big for their environment.
5. "We always try our best," was the students' motto when they played basketball.

EXERCISE 6: PERSONAL PRONOUNS

Fill in the bubble with what you think the character might say. Use at least one personal pronoun in your dialog. Underline all personal pronouns.

Pic any character.
